

How secondhand clothes can save student budgets – and the planet

Fed up of fast fashion? Start a revolution with your wardrobe by swapping, sharing and repairing clothes

It may be cheap and on-trend but fast fashion isn't the answer for poor students. For Mia Smith, a fashion communication student at Liverpool John Moores University, it's not an option. "I am strongly aware of the effects fast fashion has on the environment and I believe they're too catastrophic to ignore," she says. "More people need to be aware."

Thanks to our hyper-connected world and ethical fashion movements such as Fashion Revolution, we know more about the industry than ever. We know that garment factories pump toxic chemicals into local rivers, farmers use dangerous pesticides to grow the huge amounts of cotton needed, and thousands of gallons of water are used to make just one T-shirt. "The industry's dirty secrets are now easily uncovered and once revealed they're hard to ignore," says Jessica Donnelly, programme leader of fashion communication and styling at De Montfort University.

Otázky 1 – 3: Po přečtení textu výše, vyberte správnou odpověď A, B nebo C.

1. Although fast fashion is not expensive,

- A) some students cannot buy it. B) some students don't like to buy it online. C) some students ignore it.

2. We know more about the fashion industry because

- A) we study it at universities. B) the world is inter-linked. C) of farmers' techniques.

3. The word to reveal means

- A) to say. B) to show. C) to think about.

Otázky 4 – 6: Z odpovědí A – J vyberte slova, která patří do textu níže.

And fast fashion not only has a negative impact on people and the environment; it's also not that great for your bank balance. Our favourite brands encourage us 4. _____ more and more and it all adds up. In fact, we now buy 60% more clothing 5. _____ we did fifteen years ago but keep it for half as long. Instead of paying for new clothes, why not get creative and make the most 6. _____ what you already own?

- A) than B) to buy C) as D) buy E) of

Otázky 7 – 8: Z odpovědí A – J vyberte slova, která patří do textu níže.

Melanie Lehmann, 24, is a third-year student, BA fine art, Central Saint Martins.

I started selling clothes I didn't wear, online eighteen months 7. _____, and after about half a year it became a business. I started looking 8. _____ clothes in charity stores and at car boot sales, and I go back home to Thailand a couple of times a year where there are loads of vintage clothes that are really cheap. Wherever I go, I'll make sure that I find charity shops or markets to go to. I've dedicated two wardrobes just for the on-line shop.

- A) ago B) before C) on D) for E) from

Otázky 9 – 10: Po přečtení následující pasáže textu rozhodněte, zda jsou následující tvrzení PRAVDA (A) či NEPRAVDA (B).

When you take photos, it is best to put the clothes on someone – that's when people buy them. It doesn't even take that long – an hour or two to take pictures of everything I have in stock. I don't upload them right away; Sundays are very good days and I'll leave quite a bit until payday, because I know instantly there are going to be loads of customers.

I recommend selling your stuff, especially when you're a student, because you can save the environment and earn money from it. I didn't know that it would become my business, but I think it's about taking chances. It started off being pocket money and now it's helping me pay my rent.

9. Melanie chooses the days when to publish the photos of her clothes carefully.

10. Melanie always planned to create a big company.

How secondhand clothes can save student budgets – and the planet

Fed up of fast fashion? Start a revolution with your wardrobe by swapping, sharing and repairing clothes

It may be cheap and on-trend but fast fashion isn't the answer for poor students. For Mia Smith, a fashion communication student at Liverpool John Moores University, it's not an option. "I am strongly aware of the effects fast fashion has on the environment and I believe they're too catastrophic to ignore," she says. "More people need to be aware."

Thanks to our hyper-connected world and ethical fashion movements such as Fashion Revolution, we know more about the industry than ever. We know that garment factories pump toxic chemicals into local rivers, farmers use dangerous pesticides to grow the huge amounts of cotton needed, and thousands of gallons of water are used to make just one T-shirt. "The industry's dirty secrets are now easily uncovered and once revealed they're hard to ignore," says Jessica Donnelly, programme leader of fashion communication and styling at De Montfort University.

And fast fashion not only has a negative impact on people and the environment; it's also not that great for your bank balance. Our favourite brands encourage us to buy more and more and it all adds up. In fact, we now buy 60% more clothing than we did fifteen years ago but keep it for half as long.

Instead of paying for new clothes, why not get creative and make the most of what you already own?

Otázky 1 – 3: Po přečtení pasáže textu výše, vyberte správnou odpověď A, B nebo C.

- 1. Now when the information about the damage the fashion industry causes to the environment is public,
A) farmers should change their methods. B) it is difficult to be indifferent to it. C) ethical fashion movement will respond to it.
- 2. The author suggests that we should
A) ignore fashion. B) re-use our old clothes. C) we should sell the clothes we don't wear.
- 3. The word be aware means
A) to know. B) to show. C) to think about.

Otázky 4 – 5: Po přečtení pasáže textu výše rozhodněte, zda jsou následující tvrzení PRAVDA (A) či NEPRAVDA (B).

- 4. Although fast fashion is inexpensive, some students don't have the money to buy it.
- 5. We know more about the fashion industry because more people study it at universities.

Otázky 6 – 8: Z odpovědí A – E vyberte slova, která patří do pasáže textu níže.

Melanie Lehmann, 24, is a third-year student, BA fine art, Central Saint Martins.

I started selling clothes I didn't wear, online eighteen months 6. _____, and after about half a year it became a business. I started looking for clothes in charity stores and at car boot sales, and I go back home to Thailand a couple of times a year 7. _____ there are loads of vintage clothes that are 8. _____ cheap. Wherever I go, I'll make sure that I find charity shops or markets to go to. I've dedicated two wardrobes just for the on-line shop.

- A) why B) ago C) very D) before E) where

Otázky 9 – 10: Z odpovědí A – E vyberte slova, která patří do pasáže textu níže.

When you take photos, it is best 9. _____ the clothes on someone – that's when people buy them. It doesn't even take that long – an hour or two to take pictures of everything I have in stock. I don't upload them right away; Sundays are very good days and I'll leave quite a bit until payday, because I know instantly there are going to be loads of customers.

I recommend selling your stuff, especially when you're a student, because you can help the environment and 10. _____ money from it. I didn't know that it would become my business, but I think it's about taking chances. It started off being pocket money and now it's helping me pay my rent.

- A) take B) put C) earn D) to put E) making

Klíč k verzi A

1. A
2. B
3. B
4. B
5. A
6. E
7. A
8. D
9. A
10. B

Klíč k verzi B

1. B
2. B
3. A
4. A
5. B
6. B
7. E
8. C
9. D
10. C